

A Great Silk Season--Says Paris

The first Spring dresses indicate a great silk season. The earliest arrivals, portending the coming trend of the new season's fashions, present a fascinating charm of the Arabian Nights—resurrected—Poiret is the new Ali Baba—40 him, more than any other, are we indebted for the newly discovered beauties of these rare silks and their shimmering, Oriental richness of color, so simply and so profusely displayed here in this foremost silk section.

THE CHARM OF THESE NEW SPRING HATS LIES CHIEFLY IN THEIR DISTINGUISHED CHARACTER.

The advance showing is splendidly prepared—The clever, snazzy shapes, in French chip, Meun, hair braid and Milan, the dominant tones of red and pink—presenting Marion Rouge, Coq de Roche, Nelli Rose, Cherry, Shell Pink—The Vatican Purple, Vert de Russe, Gendarme and Delft Blue, and every other new shade, are shown in a brilliant assemblage—with the quaint stick ups and cunning flower trimmings in cleverly arranged effects pleasingly combined, are priced very modestly—
